

Newsletter #1, September 2009

Greetings to everyone who hopes to change their life!

Upcoming Events:

The big one is coming! The National Women's Show is less than two weeks away, and we are stoked and ready to go. It's happening at Lansdowne Park, on September 26th and 27th. We will have half a dozen certified Solfeggio Tuning Fork Practitioners and crystal healers available to give sample tunings to the masses. Reduce your stress, and learn how amazing it can be to balance your life! There will be a voucher for a free mini tuning in the gift bags given out to the first 5000 people entering the Women's Show, so come on over and give this amazing energy work a try. The weekend is calling for heavy numbers, so track our booth down early in the day to be sure to get in. Hope to see you all there!

I will be holding my next Level One, Solfeggio Tuning Forks Workshop on October 10 & 11, 2009. Registration is open now; if you are interested, please contact us for a registration form today!

Stay tuned for further details!

Feng Shui Tip of the Month:

Clutter is not your friend! Get rid of those piles of papers on your desk or in your home office, and you may be shocked at how much extra energy and enthusiasm you feel while you work!

Natural Healing Tip of the Month:

You. Are. Fabulous. Anyone who tries to tell you otherwise, no matter who it is, is only feeding your energy towards negative purposes. Move on, don't let it bother you, and just remember: You are fabulous!

Want additional help getting there? Reply to this email and request an appointment, and we can help you organize your life, your home, and your energy. We are here to help!

Thanking you for your support, and highest hopes for you to stay positive in your life,
